How domain registration works

Domains are registered at registry level as soon as you complete the checkout process with us.

It can take up to 72 hours for a domain name to become visible on the internet as it globally updates. This applies for all domain names regardless of extension or registrar. However, in the majority of cases your domain name will be live within a few hours.

Once you've registered a domain name, you'll also need to purchase web hosting to build your website.

With us you own your domain name and therefore have full rights and control over it; we never register customer domains in our name.

We have a range of guides and tutorials available for you via our support database. We also provide personal support just for you via your control panel – just get in touch if you need some help!
